

common good ventures

the business of nonprofit performance

Five Things That Make Networks Work

- A clear, evolving understanding of the common good and a willingness to act on behalf of it
- A commitment to participate
- A shared understanding of the importance of trust
- A willingness to strengthen the network by introducing it to and including other community members in it
- A shared sense of purpose